Shipping

The cost of shipping is not included in the prices. Shipping start at $9.99 depending on weight, destination, and whether you select standard or express (trackable) shipping.

Information Regarding Bottles

Refillable empty bottles are available at an extra cost. These bottles are subject to availability, and range from 20ml to 100ml
Please email hello@pamelamutsau.com to confirm stock availability.

If you are sending in your own perfume bottle, please ensure that your bottle is not textured. If it is textured, it must have a smooth section to engrave (e.g. along the sides of the bottle). If you're not too sure about your bottle, please send me a picture and I'll be happy to double check for you.

If you're purchasing your perfume from an online store, you can have it posted directly to me.

If you have a perfume in mind and would like me to source it, I can include the cost of the perfume in an invoice and purchase it on your behalf (a convenience fee will apply).

Coming Soon

I'm currently assessing my stock and waiting for suppliers to confirm availability of products.

Thank you for your patience in waiting for me to add this information to my pricing guide.

In the meantime, please email me with all of your enquiries regarding empty bottles. I look forward to working with you.

*With love,
